

But the Reformers knew a more excellent way. Instead of taking a great man, an eminent man, a man who had rendered great services, they thought it wiser to take on trust a man who was not known at all. Mr. Eaton says: "The resolve for reform" . . . soon declared for the nomination of a person before unrecognized by the Nation." It is true that Mr. Eaton is inaccurate as usual. In his desire to show how "unble" the Reformers were how low down they would go for a candidate, he thrusts Mr. Bristow in as "an subordinate in the Treasury Department." But Mr. Bristow was never a subordinate in the Treasury Department to the world's knowledge, except as Mr. Eaton put him there. He was never in the Treasury Department at all, until President Grant placed him at its head and made him his own confidential adviser. Mr. Bristow had been Solicitor-General, an officer in the Department of Justice, and second only to the Attorney-General. To the "dunces" indeed, there seems a trifling difference between being at the head of one department or the heels of another, and it would hardly be safe for the "common politician" to make such a mistake; but "a person of intelligence" may indulge in these little antics with impunity. So without further ado let us go on to Mr. Eaton's boast, that "up to the time that Mr. Bristow contrived the whiskey ring. . . . he had not been

SECTION 1. The local authority hereinafter specified, in each of the cities of the State, is hereby authorized to make and levy a local tax, to be levied on all assessments or salaries, provided for by tax, of all public officers and employees of the local authority, the salaries of which are a charge against said city, or payable out of the treasury of said city.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of this act the local authority in each city shall be the Common Council thereof, except in the case of the City of Chicago, in which case the Board of Commissioners exists pursuant to law, and in such cases the local authority shall be such Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

SECTION 3. In those cities having a Board of Estimate and Apportionment the said board shall on or before July 1, 1907, make a list of the names of all public officers and employees of the City Treasury, and make all the entries of such names in the City Treasury. It shall especially be the duty of the City Treasury to make such entries, and to pay the City Treasury directly or indirectly for the salaries of officers and employees paid at fixed rates.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 22.—Jacob Byham, of United States Service, to-day arrested Emil Krupp, a German, of Cincinnati, and his brother Robert, of Memphis, on the charge of counterfeiting. In their possession was found a quantity of counterfeit money, and the brothers' tools. Emil admitted that he had earned over $2,000 since reaching this city, and that he belonged to a Cincinnati band of counterfeiters.

PLANS OF TAMMANY'S OPPONENTS.

The Everett House group of the opponents of Tammany Hall met last evening, and held a long session, but no business of public interest was transacted. Reports received showed a membership of over 400. The committee on the committee of the committee was appointed to arrange the details for a public meeting, looking to a permanent organization.

Olyphant & Co., of China, who transmit by cable, at their own expense, all sums sent to them for this object.

square, have paid into one of our banks 200, as some little aid to the distresses of those of their brothers, the for trial. He will be taken to the Bangor jail to Hope was not engaged in the murder of Treasurer ron, he being in the jail of Haddam, Conn., at the

It is certain that Hope was one of the men who the Witherbee Bank in 1973.

ble out of the City Treasury, and make reductions therein. It shall especially be the duty of said board to reapportion the moneys paid to the City Treasury directly or indirectly for the salaries of officers and employees paid by the city.

the duty of le out of the r the sala-
at fixed

ship of over 400 in committee of seven for a public meeting.

ward through the house of who transmit by cable, at sent to them for this object.

a fire-alarm at Bowditch's in Richmond late one of our banks 200, as some pages of those of their brother, the